1.2 PROJECT DESCRIPTION

The Tara Estates pump station was built in the 1980's to serve the Tara Estates retirement community in East Rochester, New Hampshire. The pump station is located on the corner of Eagle Drive and Salmon Falls Road on land owned by Tara Estates. The City owns and operates the pump station, and has a recorded easement with Tara Estates for the pump station and underground infrastructure. This project proposes to replace the aging, confined-space pump station with an above grade, suction-lift configuration.

The existing pump station uses a wet pit/dry pit configuration and three flooded suction centrifugal lift pumps. These pumps convey flow via an 8-inch force main. The site consists of an influent manhole, dual 8-foot diameter wetwells, a steel "can" dry pit, and standby generator with enclosure.

The project scope of work includes:

- Maintaining existing flows using bypass pumping
- Demolition of dry pit and internal equipment
- Demolition of ductile iron piping
