Hello Everyone,

I understand that everyone on this email is in a different situations. Here are some tips.

If you are remaining open and have take out service :

1. Market what you are doing. Delivery, Take out or both
2. Shrink the menu to offer faster service for more people and reduce the possible waste.
3. Salads with a protein are great options as people are looking for the healthy options.
4. You must follow the employee illness guidelines. No Exceptions.
5. If your business is thriving right now such as pizza delivery. Think of doing a discount for people that got laid off or HealthCare workers
6. Consider donating to those in need.
7. Share resources. Don't be afraid to call a competitor across town. We are all in this together.
8. Don't be afraid to contact the City for any needs or questions.
9. Continue to wash and sanitize anything that is used or touched frequently.
10. Be mindful of social distancing.
11. Wash hands after every transaction.

If you are closing all operations during this situation.

1. Remove food that pest could easily access.
2. Donate, freeze, or throw away food that may spoil.
3. Check for open areas that pest could enter.
4. Check the security of the building.
5. Throw a little bleach water in drains.
6. Shut off or unplug unnecessary Items such as gas appliances.
7. Clean Everything !!!
8. Do projects that you have been putting off at the establishment or at home. Take pressure off yourself in the future. Control what you can control.
9. Get all your orders ready for when you reopen.
10. Find out who on your staff will be coming back. Keep checking on them.
11. Take a look at loans for the business or personal. Refinance if you can, interest rates have dropped significantly.
12. Don't be afraid to contact the City for any needs or questions.

If anyone with cooking skills or willing to volunteer for people in need please contact us. We will keep a list in case there is a need.

Whatever the needs are please reach out. Keep us informed. We will be available every day. I sincerely wish you all the best of luck.

Stay Positive !!

Bob
